

Little Arthur

Contributed by Trisha Lewis
Wednesday, 01 July 2009
Last Updated Saturday, 20 March 2010

Touring with ARTSREACH - <http://www.artsreach.co.uk/programme/index.php> FOR DETAILS Unique play "Little Arthur's History of England" shows the life of a Nanny and her charge in the nursery of a big house during the days and nights of September 1939. It is written and directed by Dorset based Peter John Cooper and performed by well-known Dorset actress Trisha Lewis. Today the play has a special relevance and poignancy... When it was first performed, The Oxford Mail said it was an "An astonishing piece infused with warmth, humour and Melancholy". "Little Arthur's History of England" is a play of knockabout humour, melancholy, pathos and melodrama. It is suitable for all ages.

Watch this space for touring details - from Feb. 2010

Touring with Artsreach - March 2010 - see website <http://www.artsreach.co.uk/programme/index.php>

CONTACT FOR MORE INFORMATION

SPYWAY PROJECTS: spyway@avnet.co.uk